

Public Expenditure and Regulatory Reforms: Britain and Germany Compared

SEMINAR

Venue:
Anglo-German Foundation
London SW1X 8DZ, 34 Belgrave Square

Date:
27th January 2006

Chair:
Nico A Siegel, University of Kent
Sven Jochem, University of Konstanz

Public Expenditure and Regulatory Reforms: Britain and Germany Compared

Programme Details

- 9.30 Opening Address, Welcome and Introduction
Ray Cunningham Anglo-German Foundation;
Nico A. Siegel, University of Kent & Dr Sven Jochem, University of Konstanz
- 9.45 Worlds Apart? Comparing Britain and Germany: Thoughts and Figures
Nico A. Siegel, University of Kent
- 10.30 Coffee & Tea
- 10.45 The New Regulatory State Compared: Consolidation and Innovation in Britain and Germany
Markus M. Müller, State government Baden-Württemberg
- 11.30 The politics of fiscal policy reforms: The Schröder and Blair governments compared Reimut Zohlnhöfer, Ruprecht-Karls University Heidelberg
- 12.15 Lunch
- 13.15 Welfare State Restructuring in Germany and the UK - the Case of Unemployment Protection
Jochen Clasen, University of Stirling
- 14.00 The Shifting Public-Private Mix: The UK and Germany Compared Martin Seeleib-Kaiser, Oxford University
- 14.45 Coffee & Tea
- 15.00 Pension Reform in Britain: Issues and Implications
John Hills, London School of Economics
- 15.45 Pension Reform in Germany: Ideas and Interests
Sven Jochem, University of Konstanz
- 16.30 Discussion & Conclusions
Peter Taylor-Gooby, University of Kent
- 17.30 End of Workshop

Practical Information

The seminar will take place in the rooms of the Anglo-German Foundation. The full post address is

Anglo-German Foundation for the Study of Industrial Society
34 Belgrave Square
London
SW1X 8DZ
UK
Telephone: +44 (0)20 7823 1123
Fax: +44 (0)20 7823 2324

The nearest tube stations are Hyde Park Corner and Victoria, which is also the nearest train station. From Victoria it is a 10-15 minutes walk.

For further information, please ap@agf.org.uk or n.siegel@kent.ac.uk